

Computer Networks

Guidelines for composing the Lab Books in 2018

© 2015-18, José María Foces Morán

- Compose a chapter for each practical
- The layout of the document must simply be clear and tidy, not unnecessarily polished or sophisticated
- Please, copy/paste each problem statement alongside your solution in order to facilitate my assessing and evaluating them
- Briefly explain the main results obtained in each exercise, either in English or in Spanish
 - Screen dumps, diagrams, listings and tables must be captioned and indexed
 - Remark the difficulties found and how you resolved them
 - Cite the references that you have consulted
 - Avoid copying and pasting contents directly from Internet except when necessary, and reference the sources, credit the authors, always
 - The greatest value of your work comes from your own thinking, your observations and your conclusions!
- Please, submit a single pdf file or, if the resulting size is too big for the e-mail system, upload it to your DropBox or Google Drive account, then, make the document public and provide me the URL in your e-mail message. If compressing is necessary, please do so in zip format, only!
 - The file name should have this structure: CN-LabBook-<Name_FamilyName>.pdf or .zip if that is the case
- Submit to foces.informatica.unileon@gmail.com
- The deadline for submission of your LabBook for CN in 2018 is:
 - 14th/June in the day's Lab sessions